19th Century elegance and spirit in a most modern light

Welcome to McCormick House, an intimate residential-style inn located in the heart of Wisconsin's beautiful Northwood's.

This landmark residence was built in 1887 as the stately home to the family of Robert Laird McCormick, one of the area's original lumber barons and founder of Hayward.

McCormick House exudes an atmosphere of comfortable, informal splendor, where relaxation comes naturally.

and understated luxury

Throughout McCormick House you will find the latest styles in furnishings from some of America's leading interior designers alongside a unique collection of European and Asian antiques dating back to the mid-eighteenth century. McCormick House sets new standards in Northwood's chic.
